

PARK IS TO BE RUN BY THE CITY

Proposal of Fogg Is Turned Down—Fogg Takes a Shot at Officials.

The city of El Paso will conduct the natorium, the cupid's slide and bowling alleys at Washington Park this summer on its own account, while the theater contract has been let to Louis Van, who will pay 20 percent of the gross receipts for the privilege of conducting it.

Application had been made for the lease of the whole park to Howard Fogg, but the city council decided this would not be advisable.

The baseball grounds will be leased to the City League, which will pay a percentage of the gross receipts to the city.

Fogg says he would not have accepted the lease unless he could have banished the saloons from the park. "I could not conduct a place like the park with a saloon in it," he said, "for I could not expect to get the best people to come out. A saloon has no business in such a park."

Fogg also says that the operation of the park by the city largely increases the voting strength of "the faithful" and he supposes that had something to do with the city retaining the management of the park and the control of its employees.

Larry Ford has the saloon privilege at the park.

Fogg says all the aldermen told him they favored leasing the park to him.

Mayor C. E. Kelly said: "Fogg sent in an application which was not considered by me or the city council for this reason: We canceled the lease with Rich because he was behind in his rent, and the park is going down all the time. Being in charge of the city last year, the revenue from the concessions was almost as much as we should have received for rent, and the money collected from the concessions was used for the improvements of the park. The park is now in good condition and this summer will be a beautiful place for the public. As the convenience of the public is the object of a park, I would not be in favor of renting it to any person or any corporation for any sum of money."

STONE SAYS MATTER RESTS WITH ROADS

Intimates Engineers May Strike and Tie Up All
Eastern Roads.

New York, N. Y., March 28.—Warren E. Stone, grand chief of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, said today on the question of increased pay demanded of the eastern railroads, replied today to a statement issued by the railroad conference commission. This denies that the railroad had based their refusal on the fact that the interstate commerce commission would not permit increased freight rates.

"I am glad to know from the railroad conference that the railroads are not responsible for refusal to grant our request for increased pay," Stone today, "that low freight rates are in a position to grant the request if they choose. Hence, if they force the engineers to strike and tie up traffic over half of the United States the fault will rest with the railroads."

NEGRO KILLED; TWO ARE HELD

John Robinson Is Dead and Marshall Johnson and Wife Arrested.

John Robinson, a negro, was shot and killed Thursday night about 6 o'clock at Third and Oregon streets, during a melee with those of his race in which Robinson was shot by a man, and falling dead his body was beaten over the head with the butt end of a revolver by a woman, according to witnesses of the affair. Marshall Jackson, a negro, and his wife Ida Jackson, negroes, are held by the police pending the investigation which was begun Thursday morning by the grand jury.

Justice E. B. McIntock, acting as coroner in the case, had the police detain the witnesses at the police station until he could hold a preliminary hearing and get the evidence. Friday morning he held Marshall Jackson and his wife, Ida Jackson, negroes, without bond to await the action of the grand jury next Tuesday on a charge of murder.

Robinson had been released from the county jail Thursday, after having been sentenced to serve a short term there on a charge of assaulting Ida Jackson three weeks ago. He was 25 years of age, and at one time had been employed in the El Paso & Southwestern railroad shops, but lately had not been working.

Shot Through Body.

The wound which caused his death was made by a 44 caliber ball. It entered his right arm near the elbow, penetrated the right side, went between the ribs, cut the back of the liver, went back of the heart and lodged near the upper part of the fifth rib on the left side, lodging there after having split the rib. Death was almost instantaneous.

Marshall Jackson is alleged to have fired the fatal shot because his revolver, which he handed to Sam Gilleau, a bartender at the Oregon bar, after the shooting, was of that caliber and two shells had been exploded from it. The woman had fired four shots and then beat the dead man over the head with her revolver, according to the testimony of Blas Marquez, a 14 year old newsboy, who was the star witness for the prosecution, and who identified the woman, though he could not identify the man.

Bullet Holes in Floor.

The body of the dead man lay inside the saloon where he had fallen. There were two bullet holes in the floor where the body lay, indicating that he had been shot at after he fell, or while he was falling. Another bullet went through the glass door and struck a pillar in the saloon.

Has a Record.

Marshall Jackson, one of the defendants, had been acquitted in the 34th district court on November 16, 1910, when he was tried on a charge of shooting and killing Mortimer Graham, also a negro, on May 20, 1910. His defense at that time was self defense, he asserted that Graham reached for a pistol. The defense in the present case has not been disclosed, as neither of the defendants took the stand at the preliminary hearing Friday morning. However, no pistol was found on the body of Robinson after his death and there was no testimony to show that he had a weapon. Robinson's mother, telegraphed from San Antonio Friday morning to have the body shipped there for interment.

Heard Firecrackers.

When the investigation was begun Friday, M. S. Scott, the first to testify, said: "I heard shots and at first thought they were firecrackers. A shot went through the glass, and I went outside and saw the deceased laying on the ground. A bullet went through the door and hit a post, and there were two holes in the floor near where Robinson was lying. Marshall had a rooming house over the saloon and a pool hall three doors south of my saloon on Oregon street."

Str. Gilleau, who lives at 512 South Campbell street, and is a bartender at the Oregon bar, testified that he was on duty when Robinson was shot, and that Jackson came in and handed him a pistol, which he in turn gave to sergeant S. D. McGreer. This was a little after 6 o'clock. John Moreland, held as a witness, said he had not seen the shooting.

Boy Star Witness.

Blas Marquez, a 14 year old newsboy, who lives at Fifth and Stanton streets, was the star witness for the prosecution. He pointed to Ida Jackson as the woman who did the shooting, but failed to identify her husband.

"I didn't see very well, but I did see the shooting," said the lad. "I was on Oregon street with some other boys. We heard a shot, and we saw a man and woman chasing another fellow. The man that was being chased ran into a saloon. About that time the man after him fired two or three shots. Then I saw the colored woman shoot at him, too. She saw him didn't have any more bullets in her gun, and then started to hit the man with the handle of the gun. I can't tell who was the man who fired the shots, but I can tell the woman. That's the woman." The boy pointed to Ida Jackson. "They said they let me out if I told what I knew," said the boy.

W. P. Walker, a blacksmith with the 22d infantry, testified that he had known Jackson all his life, and that Jackson came from San Antonio. Walker was in the rooming house at the time of the shooting, but his testimony had little direct bearing on the action of the case.

TRUST CASE GOES TO JURY TONIGHT

New York, N. Y., March 28.—Counsel for officers of the American Sugar Refining company, charged with conspiracy in violation of the criminal clause of the Sherman anti-trust law, began their summing up in the United States district court today. The case probably will go to the jury tonight.

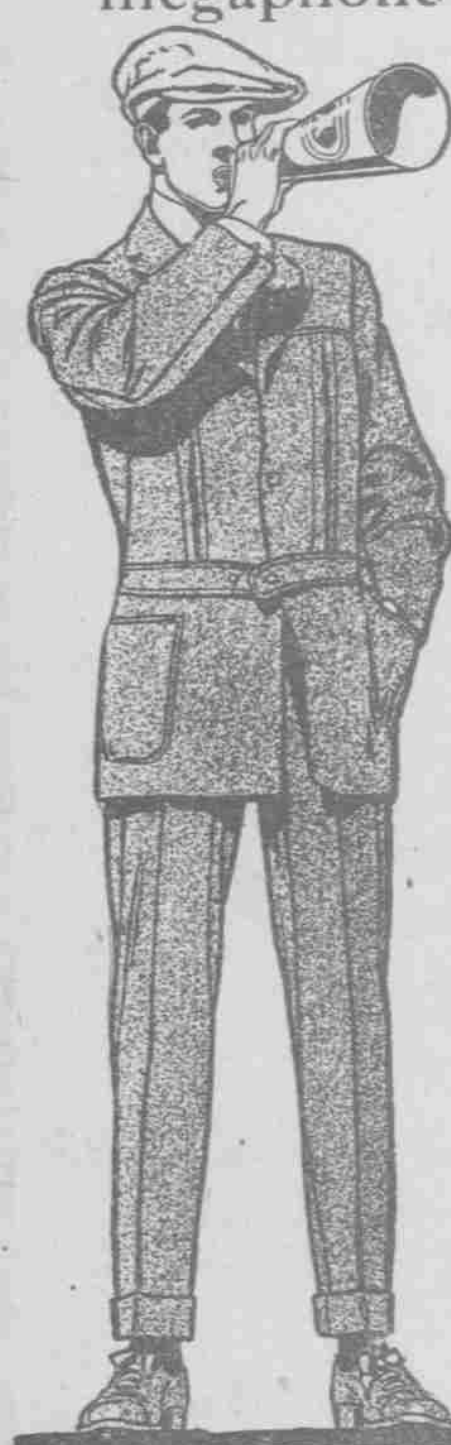

Richard V. Lindabury and Delaney Nicoll, counsel for the defense, contended that Adolph Segal never had any intention of operating the refinery in Philadelphia which the defendants accused him of putting out of business by tricking Segal with a $1,250,000 loan.

BOY DIES FROM A CAR ACCIDENT

Jose Quellar Falls Beneath
Moving Car and Is Killed.

The funeral of Jose Quellar, who died at a local hospital Thursday morning, will be held Friday afternoon from his home in the smelter district. The interment will be in the smelter cemetery.

The boy died as the result of a street car accident that occurred Wednesday morning. The lad was about 14 years old and had been "hooking" a ride, crouching on an offside step, on a Smelter car. When the car passed the old pumping station, the boy jumped off, but fell as he did so, the car passing over his left leg, mauling it.

The boy was hurried to Hotel Dieu immediately, where it was thought he would live long enough to have the crushed limb amputated. He died the next morning. He was the son of Lablas Quellar, a Mexican laborer. Motorman J. Hurd and conductor J. E. Heavin, who were in charge of the car, know of the accident until a bystander along the track shouted to them to stop.

MRS. BELLE RODDY.

Mrs. Belle Roddy, aged 70 years, died Friday morning at 2 o'clock at the residence of her daughter, Mrs. L. A. Killian, 614 South St. Vrain street. She had lived in El Paso about three years, coming here from her home in Birmingham, Ala. Besides the daughter in El Paso, three daughters whose residences are in Alabama and Tennessee, and a granddaughter, Miss Carol Kilgore, of El Paso, survive her.

The funeral service was held Friday afternoon from the chapel at 508 North Stanton street, conducted by Rev. J. E. Abbott, of the Westminster Presbyterian church. The remains will be shipped Friday night to Whitesburg, Tenn., for interment.

LIFE INSURANCE COMPANIES

They Are Closely Observing Public Health Conditions

An examining physician for one of the prominent Life Insurance Companies, in an interview on the subject, made the astonishing statement that the reason why so many applicants for insurance are rejected is because kidney trouble is so common to the American people, and the large majority of applicants do not even suspect that they have the disease.

He states that judging from his own experience and reports from druggists who are constantly in direct touch with the public, there is one preparation that has probably been more successful in relieving and curing these diseases than any remedy known. The mild and healing influence of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root is soon realized. It stands the highest for its remarkable record of cures.

We find that Swamp-Root is strictly an herbal compound, and we would advise our readers who feel in need of such a remedy to give it a trial. It is on sale at all drug stores in bottles of two sizes—fifty-cents and one-dollar.

However, if you wish first to test its wonderful merits, write to Dr. Kilmer, P. O. Box 589, Binghamton, N. Y., for a sample bottle, absolutely free. When writing be sure and mention the El Paso Daily Herald.
